

WASHINGTON, SUNDAY, MARCH 6, 1904.

12½c Linen Handkerchiefs, 5c

A purchase of one thousand dozen women's pure linen INITIAL Handkerchiefs to sell at this astonishingly low price tomorrow, and as long as the lot lasts. The reason is this. They were made in Ireland; and sent to this country in their natural condition, without laundering. If laundered, the price would be not less than 12½c each.

All letters—three styles.

A pure linen Handkerchief at 5c is such an extraordinary bargain that we expect to keep our Handkerchief salespeople busy all day tomorrow selling them.

Seventh and K Streets.

25c Pillow Tops, 14c

Clear-up of a maker's overproduction of Pillow Tops; bought at cash figure that makes it possible for us to say 14c for choice of Pillow Tops never retailed for less than 25c before. Made of heavy satin, with floral designs of every pretty sort imaginable.

25c Veilings, 12½c

Half price for a big lot of newest style Veiling—isn't that attraction enough in itself to bring you here tomorrow? Two-tone effects; plain and fancy meshes; new dotted effects and Magpie Veils. Regular 25c values for 12½c yard.

More bargains come to Goldenberg's than any other Washington store, because we are constantly searching the markets for unusual advantages.

Two-score active, wide-awake stores are housed in these buildings—five hundred and more energetic, faithful helpers—thirty master managerial minds, constantly seeking out worthy merchandise to sell at less than other stores' lowest prices. Such is the combination of talent and facilities that has brought us to our present heights of popularity, and pushes us onward to new achievements every day.

Special Value.

For Monday only—new Batist Corsets, in medium length and girdles, lace trimmed. Straight front, trimmed with lace. Sizes 18 to 28. Tomorrow only at 49c.
